DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Darbee et al., US 6,130,726.

Darbee discloses a "Program Guide on a Remote Control Display" which provides the user the ability to browse additional programming information/advertisements without interrupting the display of the television monitor.

In considering claims 1, 8 and 14-17,

1) the claimed first information handling system... is met by a television receiver or set-top box (col 4, line 20-32)

- 2) the claimed second information handling system... is met by remote control 10 (Fig 1)
- 3) the claimed said first information handling system being capable of displaying... is met by a television receiver or a set-top box connected to a display
- 4) the claimed said first information handling system being capable of responding... is met where a channel change/selection via user (remote 10)
- 5) the claimed said second information handling system being capable of displaying... is met by display 14 (Fig 1).

In considering claim 2-5 and 9-11,

Darbee discloses that a television (or set-top box) communicates to remote 10 via infrared 34 (receive) and RF 48 (Rx/Tx), where remote 10 communicates to the television (or set-top box) via IR 35 (transmit) and RF 48 (Rx/Tx) (Fig 2).

In considering claims 6-7 and 12-13,

- 1) the claimed said first information handling system... is met where the television displays a selected channel, or program guide based on a users selection via remote (10).
- 2) the claimed second information handling system... is met where remote 10 provides a channel up/down 18, EZ navigator 20, EZ information 22, EZ Guide 24 and EZ Menu Key 25 among others (col 6, line 50-61).

3) the claimed said event related program guide data is capable... is met where remote 10 receives and stores data comprising a guide which covers a 24-hour period (col 8, line 20-26).

In considering claims 18-20,
Darbee discloses a remote control device 10 which is able to display what the main display (television) is displaying and also gives the user the ability to search other channels, menu, guides without disrupting the main display. The remote control stores data comprising a guide which covers a 24-hour period which will preferably be updated at 4:00am each day (col 8, line 20-26).

In considering claims 21-22,

1) the claimed upon the occurrence... is met by a television (or set-top box) which receives an input via remote 10

2) the claimed transmitting the event related program guide data... is met by a television (or set-top box) which receives a user input via remote 10 (either RF or IF) and where the television transmits the desired information into remote 10 (via receive RF 48 or IR 34).

3) the claimed storing the transmitted even related program... is met where remote 10 comprises a microcontroller 28 which controls the processing of data utilizing bus 42 and memories 36 and 42.

4) the claimed displaying at least a portion of the event related program guide data... is met where display (LCD 14) of remote 10 displays the desired program guide information based on users input.

In considering claims 23-26,

Darbee discloses a remote control device 10 which is able to display what the main display (television) is displaying and also gives the user the ability to search other channels, menu, guides without disrupting the main display. The remote control stores data comprising a guide which covers a 24-hour period which will preferably be updated at 4:00am each day (col 8, line 20-26).
